

Drive-through Well Water Testing Dates Set for Readington

This October, Readington Environmental Commission is partnering with non-profit Raritan Headwaters to offer online registration and payment for water test kits and a “Same-Day Pickup and Return” drive-through process.

During Testing Days, RHA’s distinctive blue van will be staffed by Environmental Commission and Readington WaterWatch volunteers who will greet residents, answer questions, and do the kit delivery and exchanges through the passenger side windows. Residents are asked to wear masks and remain in their vehicles.

Participants will have the option of choosing when to return the filled sample bottles- either the very same morning they pick up their kits or on another of the scheduled well test dates. Residents are asked to pre-order their test kit online at www.testmywell.org. Complete details on types of sampling, how to sample and how to prepare for a quick-turn-around sampling are on that webpage.
